

From: Ralph Stevens
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/23/02 10:20am
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

To Whom It May Concern:

I am opposed to the proposed settlement in the Microsoft antitrust trial. I believe that the proposed settlement as written does not fully redress the actions committed by Microsoft in the past. The proposed settlement does not adequately address their ability to commit similar actions in the future.

The vast majority of the provisions within the settlement only formalize the status quo. Of the remaining provisions, none will effectively prohibit Microsoft from abusing its current monopoly position in the operating system market. This is especially important in view of the seriousness of Microsoft's past transgressions.

Most important, the proposed settlement does nothing to correct Microsoft's previous actions. There are no provisions that correct or redress their previous abuses. They only prohibit the future repetition of those abuses. This, in my opinion, goes against the very foundation of law. If a person or organization is able to commit illegal acts, benefit from those acts and then receive as a "punishment" instructions that they cannot commit those acts again, they have still benefited from their illegal acts. That is not justice, not for the victims of their illegal acts and not for the American people in general.

While the Court's desire that a settlement be reached is well-intentioned, it is wrong to reach an settlement just for sake of reaching a settlement. The settlement much provide for redress of past abuses, and incentive to prevent future abuses. A wrong that is not corrected is compounded.

Sincerely,

MSN Photos is the easiest way to share and print your photos:
<http://photos.msn.com/support/worldwide.aspx>